JAIME'S CORNER

On behalf of my bride Rachelle and the Healing Music team, I want to wish you, your family and loved ones a very Merry CHRISTmas, and a blessed 2014!

This is my favorite season, for the obvious reason that we have the opportunity to remember and celebrate the most important occurrence in the history of mankind – the night when Jesus came to this earth to bring hope, light and salvation to this world. Such is the unending and boundless love and grace that our God has, that He sent His son to redeem the human race.

There are two things in particular that I like to reflect upon during this time of year:

1- The night that Jesus was born in Bethlehem, while most of the world was oblivious to what was going on, a handful of shepherds were visited by an angel and were treated to what I believe is the most amazing concert that human ears have ever heard. In Luke 2:13-14, a scene is described, which I interpret to mean that the heavenly choir and orchestra put on a concert for those rustic and ruddy men. It is altogether possible that even the angels themselves did not fully understand the plan of salvation. But they knew that their General and Leader was about to come to this earth as a defenseless little baby, and they could not help but sing and play their instruments in adoration and glory to the King of kings. Because I love Jesus and good music, oh how I wish I would've been there that night to enjoy that spectacular concert!

2- As I drive past churches, companies, hospitals, etc., I am always amused by the nativity scenes that are presented outside the buildings. Some put out very elaborate and beautiful nativity arrangements. But the reality is that when Jesus was born, He was born in a dirty and a smelly stable. Apparently, the best Joseph could do was to find fresh straw and hay so that Mary could be as comfortable as possible. Jesus was not born at a Four Seasons or Ritz-Carlton Hotel. Nor was He taken to the finest Jewish Hospital in the land. But where He was born was not what was important to Him. What was important was why He came and what He was here to do.

Though God's amazing grace and love for us is truly incomprehensible, we can comprehend the fact that He loves each and every one of us more than anything in the universe. Each one of us is infinitely special to our Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ.

As you dwell on these humble words, I pray that the light and love that filled not only Bethlehem, but also the rest of the world on that night, will live, shine and manifest themselves in your life as you share the love, hope and salvation that Jesus offers all of us all, with the people that you come in contact with this season.

Merry CHRISTmas!

GUEST MESSAGE

Dear Jaime,

First and foremost I want to thank you for the opportunity to play with such fine musicians including yourself. Congratulations on 25 years of serving God through music. This experience has lit my passion for music in an uncontrollable blaze. I cannot express in words the amount of joy and inspiration I feel in my heart and soul after this weekend's production. This was by far a dream come true.

Sadly, my heart carries a heavy burden that I struggle with daily. I have a strong passion for music and would do anything to make it my life profession. I dream about performing and playing on tour with a band. Music is such a big part of my life and therefore I decided to pursue a bachelor's degree in music at. Growing up and especially over the last five years in college, my passion and dreams of a music career have grown even stronger but my support group has not. They assure me that I am gifted and blessed with a talent from God but don't encourage me to seek it as a profession. So instead I have gone through school trying to find something to make me happy. I've changed my major three or four times and can't find anything that brings me joy and happiness like performing music. Family and friends tell me that a music profession is not a stable job and that I need to put my dreams away and find a job that will steadily support me over time. Needless to say, I have yet to find that "stable job". Seeing you and they guys having so much fun has assured me that this is what makes me the happiest- this is what I want to do for the rest of my life. I want to thank you for that.

Listening to you give your story and speak about following God's calling has made the biggest impact on me. Jaime, through God you have changed my life. Instead of running from it, now I can be assured that through Him doors will be opened if it's His will. I want to use my musical talents to the maximum potential for His honor and glory and nothing else. Through continuous prayer, I have decided to follow this calling. Please pray for me as I enter into music ministry that I will be a humble instrument for His work.

Again, I can't thank you enough for this unforgettable experience. God bless you Jaime and all who were instruments in your fine production that has inspired me. It was truly life changing.

Your friend, JF

Good Morning:

Just wanted to share this story. One of our autistic kids came from his AIM class to the area just outside my office and sat down by the speaker where Jaime Jorge was playing. There he sat quietly rocking back and forth to music. I ask if he had completed his AIM class and he whispered, "yes, Dr. Jo". As his mother came into the hall she informed him it was time to go home. "No Mom, I can't go because..... listen, the angels are playing just for me". This child is NEVER still and to see him sway back and forth in a hushed manor is a first. Thank you again for thinking of Sam and all the children that come into this building. We are now using Jaime's music in the schools and it is working!!!! You've made a difference.

Have a wonderful day and thank you.

Dear Jaime,

I wanted to write a quick note and thank you again for sharing your gift of music with us. More importantly, I want to thank you for your servants attitude, your affirmation of faith and the glory you give to God. Rarely do we see this in people who God has so specially blessed. It was an honor to pray with you and then an absolute delight to hear you praise God through music and words.

As I promised, I have added you to my daily prayers - that God would bless you and continue to use you as a powerfull instrument of His Word. It is my plan to continue to do this until the day the Lord calls me home.

Though we are separated by thousands of miles, we are connected by our love for the Lord. If you ever are in need of prayer, please send me an e-mail and I will get on my knees.

I hope you had a safe trip back to Tennessee. Thanks again for the CD's my wife Marjie was thrilled and wants you to come back (I hope that we can do that sometime). I thought I would also let you know what my 16-year-old daughter thought. She told my wife that yo were awesome, handsome and smelled good. Marjie just laughed!

May God bless you in all you do.

Together in His Service,

Matt Duerr, pastor

Dear Ministry Team,

Thank you for your encouraging e-mail. Our church fell in love with brother Jaime. It is one thing to hear his wonderful music but it is another thing to experience his heart as he plays. It is so obvious that he loves Jesus and that is what comes through when he ministers. Jaime's ministry really touched many lives during all of our services (including both my wife and I) and I believe that was God's plan all along. I am also glad that we were able to be of some encouragement to him.

I thank God for someone like you to watch over him as he goes to so many different places to minister. It is also wonderful that he can share his ministry experiences with you. He has added some prayer partners here and we would love to have him back again soon.

Thank you once again for your help in preparing the way in getting brother Jaime here. We are blessed from having met him and experiencing God's gift in his life. May the Lord richly bless you and continue to use your ministry to greatly bless the body of Christ.
